Designed by a School Mum to be super easy!

No need to organise legions of volunteers or pre-order stock, only to waste profit when it doesn't get sold. Run this fundraiser with no financial risk and JUST ONE ADULT! Here's how:

1. Before you start, get the permission of your School Principal/Head Teacher and at least 4 teachers willing to be a part of the story, and decide the school's book resale price.
2. Download and edit the Sample School Note from our website and edit it with your school's details. Distribute to students to take home in their school bag.
3. Promote within your school!
 - Tell students at assemblies;
 - Let parents know via your school newsletter or electronic messaging system.
 - Place advertising posters in prominent areas around school (ask us to customise them to your school, for free!)

4. Students return their order form and payment to school.
5. You collate your total number of books to order, with the cash in your hand! Place your order on our website, including all school details required for the book plus your Principal's (and teachers') signed permission.
6. We ship the books directly to your school within 3 weeks (free shipping)! Hand them out to students at lunchtime, marking them from your list.

Cartons measure only 27x30x26cm and contain up to 60 books each. What a space saver!

Printed locally, your books are shipped to your school within 3 weeks!

12 GREAT reasons to Choose My School Adventure as your next fundraiser:

1. It's an ethical, useful and meaningful fundraiser that helps encourage reading at an age where reading interest starts to decline. Every book a child reads contributes to reading practice. Good literacy skills are the key to a successful education & life.
2. It's free to start! Your school doesn't need to outlay any money - the cash self-generates.

3. No need to recruit lots of volunteers to help - your school can make a big and easy profit for only a couple of hours' work by a single volunteer.
4. It's weather-independent! Regardless of snow, hurricane, rain or sweltering heat, you'll never need to cancel your My School Adventure fundraiser!
5. Teachers can really encourage their students to read, simply by contributing their name to the book. It's a great way for teachers and principals to positively raise their school community profile & be appreciated!
6. All pre-sales within school means no stock to buy, store, take out, pack away or return - and no hassling friends or neighbours to buy items they don't want.
7. Students' pride in their school is encouraged as children hold and read a book especially about their own school.
8. Parents are more likely to get behind a healthy fundraiser that encourages educational values. This can broaden your group's appeal and help you recruit more people to your cause.
9. Your profit isn't tied as a redemption to purchase from us in the future (unlike some other schemes). You are free to spend your profit on whatever you wish, and you keep it before you've even paid us!
10. Kids with food allergies or other dietary restrictions can join in. So can kids who aren't good at or don't like sports.
11. Finished reading? Keep it - or easily recycle it.
12. Great to run as an add-on to your own school art show, Book Week, school anniversary ... or any time!
